

Insicon i2i is selected as digisure AS insurance system

After a thorough evaluation of Insicon's insurance system Insicon i2i, digisure and Insicon have chosen to enter into an agreement with each other.

"It is important for digisure to have a modern and easily integrated insurance system that is adapted to our digital business model, where we can configure and customize our products ourselves. After a thorough review of the market's potential insurance systems in Europe, we found that Insicon i2i was by far the best option for us," says digisure CEO Roger Slinning.

"Gaining the confidence to deliver Insicon i2i to our first customer in Norway, who is also a digital and entrepreneur-driven organization, is extremely gratifying to us at Insicon. digisure will be an important customer in our continued efforts to broaden Insicon i2i and create one of the best insurance systems on the market. This must be seen as further proof that Insicon delivers a user-friendly, future-proof and cost-effective product," says Patric Ljung, Head of Sales and Marketing at Insicon AB.
